Summary

I am a passionately curious, adaptive, diligent, observant, competent and diverse person having an integrated and humble approach towards life. I believe in helping others and cumulative growth. I also believe in the idea that 'network is your net-worth'. I embrace diversity and would love to exchange thoughts and ideas on wide range of topics with different people across the world. I have a diverse set of linguistic and communication skills as well.

I am always open to better job opportunities and would prefer to work in healthcare, patent research, ed tech industry, R&D sector and QC/QA microbiologist roles in pharma or biopharma company.

I have Co-authored a research paper in Physics and Material Science.

Fairly Experienced research oriented and Innovative educator with a demonstrated history of working in the higher education industry. I have in depth understanding of the theoretical and practical aspects of Applied Biotechnology, Microbiology, Nanotechnology, Nano-Biotechnology, Applied Physics, Quantum Physics, Bioprocess Engineering, Biosensors, Biophysics, Statistics, Biostatistics and Probability.
